15 Common Interview Questions for All Jobs at Goldman Sachs

- What do you like the most about Goldman Sachs, and what do you dislike the most about our company?
- Who are our main competitors? Why should clients decide to co-operate with us, and not with them?
- You have to choose from two contracts you can sign with a client. The first one is a short term contract that will bring Goldman Sachs 1 million in revenue in one year time. The second contract is for a long co-operation, but it will bring us only $100,000 each year. Which deal would you choose, and why?
- What worries you the most right now when you look at the stock market?
- Describe a situation when you achieved a goal, and a situation when you had a goal, but failed to achieve it.
- What do you consider the highest level of leadership in an organization?
- Tell us a story.
- What motivates you the most in work?
- Try to describe what we do in this division of Goldman Sachs.
- Give us an example of a situation where you were outside of your comfort zone.
- If I give you $10,000 to invest right now, how would you invest the money?
- Why should we hire you, and not one of the other 100 job applicants who applied for the same job opening?
- Describe a conflict you had with a colleague in the past. How did you solve the conflict?
- Describe a time when you went above and beyond with your customer service.
- What do you consider your greatest strength, and how will this strength help you in a job with us?
