

InterviewPenguin.com

Your Best Job Interview Coach Since 2011

Sample answers to “tell me about yourself” question

I'm Jenni, living here in town. I have just graduated from high school, and I can't wait to get my first job. I am an avid book reader and learner, and I really enjoy spending time with other people. And I'd love to work as a bank teller.

I have a dog called Princess, and enjoy going for long walks with her. We often walk around this banking center, and it would be wonderful to work here.

I'm Ron, I have graduated from XYZ college back in 2005, and I've been working with people ever since. They are my passion, my greatest hobby, and I believe that I've learned to understand them. As you can see on my resume, I have been unemployed for the past two years. I experienced a crisis in my personal life, and I needed some time away from work. Firstly to solve things out, and later to reflect on my life, and think about the goals for the future. Now I am ready to return to work, motivated to try my best every day, and I hope to be an asset for your HR team. That is what I'd say about myself.

I'm Liliana, thirty years old, single mother. I excel in administrative work, and believe to be a nice companion. I have strong organization and communication skills, and hope to use these skills in a secretary job.

I have studied your job description carefully and decided to apply, since the working hours suit me perfectly. You should know that my parents help me with my daughter, and I also have a nanny who comes to help. Apart from working I enjoy books and running.

I'm Carl, and I have been working as a teacher ever since I earned my Masters Degree. But I found that the career in education is not really my cup of coffee, and for the past few years I've been learning various programming languages, mostly C++ and Java, preparing for a career change. Now I feel ready to make a transition.

I feel excited, happy to start something new, and understanding the software applications you develop in your company, I believe to be a great fit for the job you advertise.

I'm John, I like to spend my time outside, walking in the nature, gardening. I've been working with computers for most of my life, and now I am looking for a radical change, since I am tired of corporate environment. I know that I may look overqualified for this position, but this is exactly the job I want to have, and I am eager to learn to do it well. I believe that once you have a relationship to animals, once you feel for them, you will quickly learn how to take care of the, and how to do a good job on a farm.

My name is Jeremy, and the first thing I want to tell you is that I've spent the last two years in XYZ detention facility. I've made some mistakes in my life, but I had time to think and reflect in prison, and I believe I walked out the prison gates a different person.

I like your retail store, I am strong and can handle manual labor, and I would be really proud to work for you. I hope you give me a chance to prove my abilities and strong working ethics in your store.....

Source and more answers to the question: <https://interviewpenguin.com/tell-me-about-yourself-interview-question/>